

Biscuit Gingerwhiskers
North Pole Reporting Office

1 Candy Cane Lane · North Pole · Special Delivery

To my friend friend,

Dear friend,

It is me, Biscuit Gingerwhiskers, with a little mid-visit note. I have been watching quietly from my hiding spots, and I want you to know: the report I give the North Pole each night has been full of lovely things.

I saw you share. I saw you try hard at something tricky. I saw you use kind words, even when it was not easy. Those are exactly the things that make the Nice List glow.

There is still time before the big night to add more sparkle to my report. Small things count double: helping set the table, reading a little extra, being gentle with someone having a hard day.

Keep it up, friend. I am cheering for you (very quietly, from inside the coat closet).

Biscuit Gingerwhiskers

Biscuit Gingerwhiskers, your elf

October 23, 2026

P.S. _____

Door hangers

Cut along the dashed lines, punch a hole, and hang them anywhere an elf might rest

The Elf Is In!

Knock softly. Reporting in progress.

Elf Napping

flew all night. Back in the morning.

Tip: cardstock works best. Tape a ribbon through the hole to hang.